Dear Richard and Garry (Torpoint)

I am writing to thank you and your workforce for changing the future of St Francis Catholic Primary School.

I know the building works that have taken place over the last year have not been without the odd hiccup, which anyone realistically has to expect in a building project so huge, but in the words of a group of children the school is now "fabulous". I feel that it was important that the school worked with Aedas and yourselves closely throughout the works to iron out any possible issues and to ensure the project ran smoothly. Constant communication was the key and an honest, open dialogue between all parties was vital as we are now enjoying a beautiful new extension with a quality finish and an extremely well thought out design – that really works!

From a health and safety perspective the school was commended for the safe environment created throughout the project for all the children, staff and parents and this must be passed on to your staff and Barry and Wayne for their conscientious approach to the smooth running of the site.

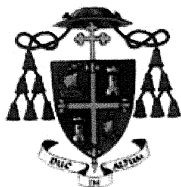

Recently we have hosted the Bradford Catholic Schools partnership meeting here at St Francis and the feedback from fellow headteachers was phenomenal. Many headteachers wanted to know both the building contractor and the designers. People have been so impressed with the quality of the design, the finish of the refurbishment and the style and practicality of the new extension.

St Francis now has a much more welcoming feel. St Francis Catholic Primary School has a modern style and an up to date learning environment that really has boosted children, staff, parents, parishioners and Governors in their approach to school. This week we have had a couple of open days where we invited our parents, families, parishioners and neighbours along to see our children working in their new school environment. The feedback has been fantastic.

I genuinely feel that the part you have played as a building contractor has made a huge difference to the future of many, many children. Finally, on behalf of everyone associated with St Francis Catholic Primary School I would like to reiterate our sincere thanks.

Yours sincerely,

Daniel Copley
